The Sloth Boutique Owner/Product Designer

April 2020-Present

Currently this store is on Shopify and the Etsy Marketplace. On Shopify we list products from third parties and on Etsy we sell our own designs. I develop product design concepts and base future designs or iterations on customer feedback and sales trends. Other tasks include product photography, social media marketing, graphic design, and SEO optimization.

Airbnb Rental Host

Jan 2020-Feb 2021

Hosted a condo on South Padre Island, Texas. Ended time with a 5/5 score on communication with renters. Addressed issues that arose as quickly and efficiently as possible. Learned basic plumbing skills and fixed plumbing after a deep freeze, did some marketing with Google ads, built a website for the property, took interior design courses, created a mood board, and improved the interior with painting and updating the design/furnishings.

Brighton Mountain Resort Ski & Snowboard Instructor

Dec 2015 - April 2019

Taught ski and snowboard classes to adults and kids from first timers to the intermediate level (green and blue runs). Participated in professional development workshops and earned my PSIA Level 1 Ski Instructor Certification at this time.

EDUCATION

Google UX Design Certificate

June 2022 - Oct 2022

Completed 7 courses covering entry-level job fundamentals, with focus on user research, wireframing, low-fidelity and high-fidelity prototypes, and mockups for apps and responsive websites using Figma and Adobe XD. Finished in-depth projects and designed an portfolio highlighting 3 case studies.

ADDITIONAL COURSES

Harvardx CS50

Nov 2022 - Present

Currently am halfway through this course and have learned and completed projects in the C coding language, and have covered computer programming basics such as arrays, algorithms, memory and data structures.

Meta Introduction to Android App Development

November 2022

This course went through the basic roles of web and mobile, and introduced HTML and CSS. It also went through the benefits of using React Native for building mobile apps.

Meta Introduction to Front-End Development

November 2022

In this course I learned about the responsibilities of a web developer and how front-end developers make websites and apps that work well and are easy to maintain. This course covered the basics of HTML and CSS and also applied those in tasks, as well as touched on UI frameworks as well as Bootstrap and React. For the final project we created and edited a webpage using HTML and the Bootstrap CSS framework.
