PROFILE

In my past life I was a ski & snowboard instructor, a teacher in various capacities, personal trainer, and surf instructor. I feel like the spirit of adventure is in everything I do. I've also learned a great deal about working with people, and understanding them, which is an integral foundation to the design process.

I can be a bit of nerd and become hyper-focused on projects. I have a deep joy of the learning process, emboldened by my experiences as a teacher, and feel I've become quite adept at learning new skills quickly.

Photography has always been a passion of mine, especially film photography, as is traveling, exploring, and finding fascination in all things aesthetically awesome. Transitioning to design has been a natural process for me, and one that feel unavoidable. My motivations are the enjoyment of the creative process, finding inspiration from others and the world, and finding innovative ways to add fun and imagination into our society.

EXPERIENCE

FREELANCER

SELF | 2021-Present

I freelance in various capacities, from teaching English on Italki to selling digital journals Amazon, I've developed skills such as using interactive instructional tools for teaching, Google slides, Canva, Wordpress, Zoom/video conferencing, Miro, and other skills.

OWNER & PRODUCT DESIGNER

THE SLOTH BOUTIQUE | 2020 - Present

Currently this store is on Shopify and the Etsy Marketplace. On Shopify we list products from third parties and on Etsy we sell our own designs. I develop product design concepts and base future designs or iterations on customer feedback and sales trends. Other tasks include product photography, social media marketing, graphic design, and SEO optimization

RENTAL HOST

AIRBNB | 2021 - 2022

Hosted a condo on South Padre Island, Texas. Ended time with a 5/5 score on communication with guests. Addressed issues that arose as quickly and efficiently as possible. Learned basic plumbing skills and fixed plumbing after a deep freeze, did marketing with Google ads, built a website for the property, took interior design courses, created a mood board, and improved the interior with painting and updating the design/furnishings.
